Lives

HELLO

Thank you for taking the time to learn more about us

Although we may not know one another yet, we are thinking and praying for you and baby daily.

Dear Birth Mother,

Thank you for taking the time to get to know us as you seek the right family for your child. We admire your strength and courage in the consideration of an adoption and pray for you and baby daily as you journey through this decision making process.

Tore and I met through a mutual friend in High School when we were both 18 years old. Our relationship continued through college where we dated long distance for one year at separate schools. After completing college we were married. After more than 8 years of marriage we have been blessed with two little girls: Adelyn and Harper. Being parents is one of our greatest joys. We make it our priority to spend time together as a family as well as plan fun activities that we all enjoy. After our oldest daughter was born, Amber became a stay at home mother. It has always been our desire to grow our family. The decision to adopt has always been one that has been heavy on our hearts since the beginning of our marriage. It is our desire, after much thought and prayer, to open our hearts and home to another child through adoption.

Has Family that Lives in Japan

Amber graduated from college in 2009 with a Masters degree in social work. It was always her desire to work with families and children. In 2013 Amber left her job as a supervisor working in foster care to be a stay at home mother. In this season of life Amber feels like being at home and raising her children is a priority over pursuing career goals. Being a mom has always been Amber's greatest desire.

Meet Adelyn

Adelyn is our sweet, sensitive and intelligent seven year old. She loves to learn and is a great role model to her little sister. Adelyn's favorite extra curricular activities include: music class, dance class and gymnastics. She also enjoys school. Her favorite subject is art. Some of Adelyn's favorite things include: swimming, riding her scooter, legos, and spending time with her grandparents and cousins.

Meet Harper

Harper is our little four year old ball of energy. She loves to run around the house copying everything her big sister does. Harper loves dinosaurs and Disney Princesses. Her favorite extra curricular activities include: music class, ballet, and gymnastics.

Married

We met through a mutual friend when we were in high school. In 2009 we declared our vows to one another in front of our family, friends and God. We have now been married for over 8 years. We are best friends. Our marriage is built on our firm foundation in knowing our Lord and Savior. Our love for one another has grown from that of teenagers to now being in our 30's. We are so blessed to have each other and consider being parents one of our greatest joys.

Things we Love to do Together...

Parenting, Trying New Food Recipes, Watching Movies, Talking, Playing Tennis

Our Home

We live in a wonderful neighborhood in a quite cul de sac. One of the things we love most about our home is the beautiful yard and friendly neighbors. Our Home is located next to a number of family friendly parks as well as multiple libraries to which we frequently visit.
